

Cables for Sports and recreation

Within the sector sports and recreation a lot of cables are needed. As in the automotive industry, all kinds of cables are used for the assembly of sailing boats, yachts, jet skis, karts and quads. Velda Cable Technics owes its expertise in the field of cables for various applications within the sector sports and recreation to many years of experience and R&D in the automotive industry. As a result, we have developed a wide range of standard products that are always available in stock.

The sector sports and recreation also includes cables to tighten sports nets, parachutes, cables for suspension bridges and every other application imaginable. Whether it is about rigging up the sails of a sailing boat or pulling up a glider, Velda Cable Technics has the know-how to develop the most appropriate cables.
